Plano-based Employer “Gives Back” by Collecting Food & Funds for Those in Need
Employees from Plano’s Capital Title respond to the growing number of families seeking assistance by collecting canned food and funds to support the local North Texas Food Bank.

PLANO – June 5, 2012 – Summer months mark a time of relaxation after a long school year of hard work in Plano. But, while others are enjoying the hot summer sun, many low-income families are struggling to keep cool in the Texas heat and keep food on the table. In response to the growing need, employees of Capital Title of Texas have launched “Capital Title Gives Back” - a summer-long food and funds drive. The Plano-based employer also provides satellite offices located throughout the state where the staff has also been encouraged to support their local food pantries through the collection of donations in their area.

Vice President of Operations, Tracy McMahon, has expressed the importance that her employees support their local communities. “All of us are challenged with obstacles at some point in our lives. It is important that we all give when we can to those who need help during hard times,” said McMahon. “You never know if or when you might be in their shoes.”

Tracy McMahon, credited with the initial efforts to launch “Capital Title Gives Back”, has challenged all employees to participate in support of community in which they serve. All donations and funds raised will directly support the local North Texas Food Bank. Donations will be generously accepted by anyone interested in participating throughout the month of June.

Friends, family, and customers looking to support their local Dallas-Fort Worth community can contribute directly from their own homes by going online to Capital Title's "Virtual Food Drive" and submitting a donation at <http://vad.aidmatrix.org/vadxml.cfm?driveid=6383>. Donations can also be dropped off to a local Capital Title office across the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Our Houston area office locations have chosen Mission Northeast, Inc., a local Church in the New Caney area, in need of numerous donation items to help those in the area. Houston area employees have also reached out to friends, family, and customers in their community to help them in their efforts to raise money and donations to support the "Capital Title Gives Back" campaign throughout the month of June.
